

The European Excursion.

A good sized party leave this morning over the D. & R. G. en route for England and other portions of the old world, under the charge of Mr. J. A. Maynes, of Maynes & Co., HERALD building. They will arrive in New York on Wednesday evening, where one day only will be allowed, the party sailing by the State of Alabama the following day, Thursday, so that in less than a week's time, they will be rolling over the broad Atlantic. About two-thirds of the company are foreign born, and the rest are natives of this country. Some of the latter make their first trip abroad, while others of the tourists visit their old homes which they have not beheld for forty years. Going by way of the D. & R. G. they will have the pleasure of taking in some of the grand scenery in the world, and will be the recipients of care and attention. On their arrival in New York, the State of Alabama will be found. It is one of the first class steamers, fitted up with every convenience, and arranged to the greatest degree. Mr. Maynes has promised his earnest personal attention during the entire trip, and he has the best of assurances that he will be cheerfully aided by the officers of both the railroads and the steamer.

This is the first fair of the kind ever attempted in the west and its success has already had the effect of arrangements being made for another "out" of the same kind to take place next year some time in May. Tickets will be good for one year from date, for both excursions.

Base Ball.

The Reds have made all necessary arrangements, and on Thursday next the Ogden Athletics will visit this city and measure bats with the local Reds; as the Ogden club was victorious in their last contest with a Salt Lake club, this game will be watched with additional interest. The game will commence at 1 o'clock sharp, in order to allow the Ogden boys to return on the evening train.

On the following day—Friday—the second championship game between the Reds and Blues will take place. As the Reds won the first of the three championship games with the Blues this game will prove very exciting and no doubt will draw out a large crowd. The admission has been reduced, the general entrance fee being 25 cents with no extra charge for the grand stand.

A Row.

A private soldier got into a row last night with a man in citizen's clothing, who proved, however, to be the provost sergeant or guard sergeant at the fort. The soldier dressed the sergeant up in excellent shape, cutting a deep gash in his face and otherwise making him unrecognizable. The private was subsequently arrested by the police and put in the city jail; and while there fell into a fit said to have been of unusual severity. He was to have been discharged in a few days from his company, his time being out; the probabilities are, however, that he will be forced to serve a little longer now.

The Ruling Passion.

It was quite interesting to witness the performance of Manager Harry Edwards—of Wallack's company—last night on Second South street, and after the performance of Young Mrs. Winthrop was over. In company with his wife, about 11:30, he stood near an electric light with a bottle in one hand, while with the other he was engaged in catching moths and other insects attracted by the brilliant light. Mrs. Edwards seemed as much interested as her husband, for she was stopping and watching the process, and would point out the insects with Mr. Edwards' cane, which she held in her hand.

Sunday School Union.

The monthly meeting of the District Sunday School Union will be held in the Assembly Hall on Monday, September 1st, at 7:30 p. m. A full attendance is desired. The Twelfth Ward School will be represented by its superintendent. That school will also furnish the deacon and doorkeepers and the usual singing exercises. The Sunday School Union Bazaar will also be a feature of the evening.

For lame back, side or chest, use Shiloh's Pain-Plaster. Price 25 cents. Sold at A. C. Smith & Co.'s Drug Store.
